Best ways to get to Ebeltoft from inside Denmark

>>>> Within Denmark, Ebeltoft is directly reachable by public transport with buses operated by Midttrafik or Flixbus. If travel by private car is unavoidable, please try to car-share – it can be fun to travel together!

* Midttrafik (the regional public bus and tramway service in Central Denmark) has an app that allows you to buy single tickets, multi-trip tickets (10 journeys) and tourist tickets for Midttrafik buses and Letbanen (tramway in Aarhus and environs).

Bus tickets can also be bought at the ticket counter at the Midttrafik Office at Aarhus Bus Terminal or in every bus, but please be aware that you cannot use credit or ec cards on Midtrafik buses – payment is cash-only in Danish kroner.

Best ways to get to Ebeltoft from outside Denmark

The cheapest option could be to fly to Copenhagen.

From Copenhagen to Ebeltoft the options are:

Flixbus (direct connections):

From Copenhagen Airport or Central Station to Ebeltoft: approx 40€ (two-way ticket).

From Odense to Ebeltoft: approx 25 € (two-way ticket).

Kombardo-Expressen (train + ferry):

From Copenhagen to Aarhus (a cheap way to get from Copenhagen to Aarhus; tickets include ferry service). Prices according to dates. You must book in advance!

Aarhus is easy to reach by train from Copenhagen and from Central and Northern Denmark, as well as from Hamburg/Northern Germany, but it takes time.

To continue to Ebeltoft from Aarhus Central Station, you have to take bus no. 123 (Midttrafik blue bus) from Aarhus Bus Terminal (5 mins. walk from Central Train Station) to Ebeltoft City Centre/Bus Terminal.

Another option is to fly to Aarhus, Billund or Aalborg Airports

From these airports you can get to Ebeltoft with:

- Bus service from Aarhus Airport:
